Itinerary

This self-guided tour between the Atlantic Ocean and the Pyrenees lets you fully enjoy the highlights of Basque Country. You have four days to ride on peaceful country roads or on dedicated bike paths. The schedule gives you time to savor time on the coast, visiting Saint-Jean-de-Luz to many other sandy beaches. The route also travels through the green hills of the hinterland, with sweeping landscapes filled with churches and grazing cows. You'll delight in pedaling by half-timbered villages such as Ainhoa, Espelette or Sare. After passing Guethary, end the day breathing fresh ocean air in Biarritz.

Day 1

Biarritz - Itxassou

Bike
44km

Altitude
 ±245m

E-bike (touring bike available)

Start your tour by passing the stately mansions and half-timbered houses of Biarritz seaside resort and heading towards the coastline. Pedal at your own pace along the Adour River while discovering the colorful houses of Bayonne. Most houses are white with deep red or dark green shutters. Be sure to sample the town's famous chocolate and the Bayonne ham! The path will take you to the Basque hinterland. You'll ride the bike path along the Nive River until coming to Ustaritz, the center of Basque culture.

The day's route continues on small, country roads until you reach the spa town of Camboles-Bains. Stop and visit the beautiful Arnaga, home of Edmond Rostand, author of Cyrano de Bergerac. Soon you'll reach Itxassou, a typical Basque village where you'll probably see Basque pelota players entertaining on the town square.

Day 2

Itxassou - Sare

Bike
25km

Altitude
 ±420m

E-bike (touring bike available)

This morning you'll leave Itxassou and head towards the charming village of Espelette, where houses are colorfully decorated with dried peppers. Along the way, stop at local farms to buy fresh fruits or tasty treats. After crossing Pinodieta Pass, you're rewarded with time to visit Ainhoa, designated as one of France's prettiest villages.

You are now close to the French-Spanish border. Pass the old Customs House before cycling on Spanish roads. The village of Zugarramurdi is worth a stop to see its well-known caves and "Witches Museum". Here you have a choice to ride directly to Sare or take an 8km detour and visit the impressive Caves of Sare. The 45-minute guided tour takes you 900meters deep into the cave.

Day 3

Sare - Saint-Jean-de-Luz

Bike
14km

Altitude
 ±170m

E-bike (touring bike available)

Today's short ride lets you fully enjoy the mountains before biking down the road to the ocean. Start by pedaling over the Saint-Ignace Pass. Then take the Rhune Tourist train to get to where you see wonderful views of both the mountain and the ocean. Take a break in Ascaïn, a charming village with narrow, quaint alleys and picturesque town square. The day ends as you reach your hotel in the seaside town of Saint-Jean-de-Luz. Enjoy looking at the sumptuous neo-Basque style houses close to sandy beaches.

Day 4

Saint-Jean-de-Luz - Biarritz

Bike
18km

Altitude
 ±200m

E-bike (touring bike available)

Today's ride takes you on the 1,200km Velodysee Bike route. Don't worry. You are not doing the entire route! The path goes along the Atlantic Coast where you'll see beaches, cliffs and waves perfect for surfing. The short itinerary gives you time to stop along the way when something catches your attention. Before you reach Biarritz, explore the town of Guethary, known for its sumptuous villas. Maybe take a surfing lesson or try another water sport. Your mini-vacation comes to an end as you return to Biarritz.
