Itinerary

From Reims to Epernay, cycle the heart of the Champagne wine region. Not only is Champagne known worldwide for its sparkling wines, but it also has a lot to offer on the cultural side. Learn about the history of France and the coronation of the French kings in Reims cathedral. Admire the splendid hilly landscapes of Montagne de Reims carpeted with an ocean of vines. Stop along the way in the villages to meet the producers, taste the wines and discover the making process of Champagne. Your cycle break ends in Epernay, a town on the banks of the Marne river, considered as the capital of Champagne wine region.

Day 1

Arrival in Reims

Reims is regularly mentioned in the history books because it was during centuries the coronation place of the kings of France kingdom. Admire the majestic Notre-Dame cathedral and learn more about the rituals of the coronation ceremony in the museum of Palais de Thau. You can continue on your historical quest by visiting the Saint-Rémi abbey. Otherwise, stroll in the pedestrian centre of Reims to see the covered market and enjoy the lively cafés.

Reims - Bouzy/Mutigny

Bike
33/52km

Altitude
±400m

You cycle out of Reims along the Canal de l'Aisne à la Mame to Sillery on a green cycle path that winds its way through the industrial zone. A perfect warm-up for your first riding day! After a short distance through the plain, you ride up to the hills covered with vines and gaze at the villages of Verzenay and Verzy nestled in the heights. You go from village to village on small roads and country paths through Villers-Marmery, Trépail and Ambonnay. You overnight in Bouzy (B category/ 33km) or Mutigny (C category/ 52km).

Bouzy/Mutigny - Epernay par Hautvillers

You start today by a long descent across the vineyard to the valley of the Marne. You reach a nice and flat cycle path along the side canal to the Mame. Exit the cycle path and take the detour to the village of Ay, where many Champagne houses and the Pressoria
