Itinerary

You start off in Bayeux, world-famous for its cathedral and tapestry. You ride along the coast to Grandcamp-Maisy, before heading further inland, where you can greet the Normandy cows in their black-and-white finery.

Then, in the second half of your stay, you'll cycle along the Vire, riding along tree-lined paths. Chestnut, oak and beech trees line your route, offering a fresh and peaceful setting.

Finally, you finish your itinerary in the direction of Mont-Saint-Michel. As you pedal along, you leave the Normandy bocage behind you to take in the marshes. From there, you arrive on a road that allows you to contemplate France's most visited monument.

Day 1

Arrival in Bayeux

Bayeux is at the center of the Landing beaches. Discover this charming medieval town dominated by its magnificent Gothic cathedral. Stroll through the narrow medieval streets and admire the half-timbered houses. Do not miss the eleventh century tapestry representing the conquest of England by William the Conqueror.

Day 2

Day-tour to Omaha Beach

Bike
50km

The day's route begins from Bayeux, going to the Overlord Museum and the American Cemetery. You'll bike on quiet roads through traditional villages with half-timbered houses. The homes are surrounded by forests and cattle grazing on pasture.

Take time to pay respect to the almost 10,000 American soldiers who sacrificed their lives for freedom. The bike route then continues along the coast to the picturesque small fishing port of Port-en-Bessin. After strolling around the harbor, follow the path back to Bayeux.

Bayeux - Grandcamp-Maisy

Bike
59km

Start your day cycling on a shared road to the heights of Port-en-Bessin. Continue on to the Vélomaritime, a cycling route along the coast. You'll pass Omaha Beach in particular. If you want to get to the D-Day memorial, we recommend you follow Colville. Follow the Norman cliffs on a pleasant cycle path. After a few climbs, you'll reach the Pointe du Hoc site. Take in the beautiful views before reaching the oyster-farming town of Grandcamp-Maisy.

Grandcamp-Maisy - Carentan-les-Marais

Bike
30km

Leave the port town of Grandcamp-Maisy and say goodbye to the seal colony in the Baie des Veys. Gradually move away from the coastline towards the marshes and hedged farmland that are so familiar to Normandy. Follow little-traveled roads through farmland to reach Carentan. As you approach the town, you'll be plunged back into a maritime atmosphere, recognizing the seascapes you left that very morning, as Carentan boasts a marina.

Carentan les Marais - Saint-Lô

Bike
42km

You leave Carentan along the Taute river. On this flat route, you continue on small roads through the marshes. You may come across the famous Norman cows, known for their black and white spots. When you reach the commune of Saint-Fromont, you ride alongside the River Vire. Pedal peacefully along the Vire, on a landscaped greenway, to the fortifications of the town of Saint-Lô. Don't miss a visit to the beautiful church of Notre-Dame-de-Saint-Lô.

Saint-Lô - Vire

Bike
67km

Altitude
±537m

From Saint-Lô, you cycle along the River Vire for much of the route. You pedal along the peaceful "voie verte", decorated with works of art all along the way. Then, little by little, the scenery changes, the paths become a little winding and you enter the bocages. Along the way, you'll have a chance to admire the Souleuvre Viaduct, and why not take a break there to encourage the more daring who decide to jump into the void. You'll take in some of Normandy's rolling countryside before reaching Vire, famous for its gastronomic specialities and architecture steeped in history.

Vire - Saint-Hilaire-du-Harcouët

Bike
55km

You leave the heights of Vire and head back down towards the greenway. Following an old railroad line, you'll come across a number of abandoned stations, some of which have been rehabilitated for cyclists, and some of which have been chosen as a refuge by little goats. Nature lovers will appreciate a large variety of trees, including oaks, chestnuts and beeches, to protect you from the heat on sunny summer days. A little further down the route, don't forget to stop off at Morton to admire the unspoilt setting of the Morton waterfalls. The voie verte takes you to the small town of Saint-Hilaire-du-Harcouët, founded in 1083.

Saint-Hilaire du Harcouët Barenton (via le Mont)

Start your day with a lovely descent from the town of Saint-Hilaire to join the voie verte. You'll find the same landscapes as the day before: hedged farmland and trees protecting

Pontorson (via le Mont-Saint-Michel)

Bike

you all along the way. This is a relatively pleasant stage, as it is mainly downhill. As you progress, the landscape opens up and the marshes appear, giving a glimpse of Mont-Saint-Michel in the distance. On the second part of the stage, you take little-travelled roads until you reach the tourist site. Finally, you reach Pontorson via a greenway that is once again quiet and flat.
