Itinerary

Discover the beautiful landscapes of the Atlantic coast on this cycle holiday along the Velodyyssey. You start your trip in the charming little town of Pornic. You cycle first along the Bourgneuf bay. Your first stop is the cute village of Bouin nested in the marshland, and the next one is the delightful island of Noirmoutier. The ones who want to explore the island can choose to spend one more day there, which we strongly advise. After Noirmoutier, your cycle route keeps running along the Vendee coast of the Atlantic. You alternatively pass sandy beaches and rocky coastline, oyster farming land and pine forests. You will be warmly welcomed on the way in the sea resorts of Saint-Jean-de-Monts, Les Sables d'Olonne or La-Tranche-sur-Mer. Your tour ends in La Rochelle after riding through the Aiguillon bay. Enjoy the taste of the local products, fresh oysters, mussels or sardines and plenty of savory bakery products like the "brioche vendéenne".

Day 1

Arrival in Pornic

Pornic is a charming port with a flair from Brittany. The town center is spreading on the hills surrounding the moorage, where boats are lying protected from the winds. Take time to stroll around the old town.

Day 2

Pornic - Bouin

Bike
32km

You cycle from the Loire Atlantique region to the Vendee country. The Velodyssy route is going on the corniche and provides nice views on early 20th century houses on the sea front. You meander through residential neighborhoods and after Les Moutiers-en-Retz, cycle an open landscape named "Marais breton", literally Breton marshland. On one side, you will see the pastureland and on the other side, the shore dotted with fishing nets or oyster ports. You overnight in Bouin, a village in the middle of marshland which was formerly an island!

Day 3

Bouin - Noirmoutier-en-l'Île

Bike
37/60km

Cycle the polders to the "passage du Gois", a submersible road which connects the island of Noirmoutier to mainland. At low tide, you can cycle across the bay on this road and get directly to Barbâtre. If you arrive there at high tide, you need to ride a longer route on mainland to take the bridge more South. The route is then going all the way through marshland to the Northern part of the island, to the village of Noirmoutier-en-l'Île.

Extra day (optional): tour on Noirmoutier island

Bike
21km

We are suggesting to stay one more day on Noirmoutier to discover the treasures of the island! You ride the Northern coast to the Port de L'Herbaudière and come back to Noirmoutier-en-l'Île through picturesque salt marshes. Take time to visit the castle of Noirmoutier and stop on one of the beautiful beaches to chill and jump in the sea.

Day 4

Noirmoutier-en-l'Île - Saint-Jean-de-Monts

Bike
41km

Today's route is along the West coast of Noirmoutier island, facing the ocean. You cycle through salt marshes to L'Epine and follow the route of the ancient mills along the beaches. Enjoy the view on the long beaches and pine forests before crossing the bridge. You ride afterwards into the forest of Pays de Monts. The cycle path goes up and down along the dunes and takes you peacefully to the sea resort of Saint-Jean-de-Monts.

Day 5

Saint-Jean-de-Monts - Les Sables d'Olonne

Bike
55km

Not long after Saint-Jean-de-Monts, sandy beaches are followed by a spectacular rocky coastline called "corniche vendéenne". You'll be fascinated by the movement of waves crashing into the shore. You ride further through Saint-Gilles-Croix-de-Vie, which is well-known for sardines fishing. Your route continues along the coast and then meanders between marshland and forests in the Olonne country. View the nice panorama on "La

Day 6

Les Sables d'Olonne - La Tranche-sur-MerBike
50km

After the bay of Les Sables, you ride along a rocky coastline punctuated by small coves such as the bay of Cayola. Don't miss the detour to the beach of Le Veillon located on a mouth between marsh and ocean. Have a break a little further in the oyster port of La Guitière if you are amateurs! The itinerary continues towards Saint-Vincent-sur-Jard where you can visit the last house of WW1 French leader, Georges Clémenceau. You cycle through the pine forest of Longeville before arriving in La Tranche-sur-Mer.

Day 7

La Tranche-sur-Mer - La RochelleBike
73km

This stage is longer but easy to cycle with some prolonged straight lines. You cycle through the Aiguillon bay to Marans. You will see many natural sites, such as the lagoon of Belle Henriette, the headland of L'Aiguillon, the limestone plateau of the Dive island, or the locks of Brault. Marans is a pleasant stop, with nice terraces looking at the river. Last, you ride along a canal which goes almost all the way to the Old Port of La Rochelle.
